CALAVERAS COUNTY.

Prospect, San Andreas, June 9, 1900.

Kate Venciel daughter of Walter and Belle Venciel, was drowned in an irrigating reservoir, near her home at Milton, last Sunday. She went to the reservoir to bathe and being gone longer than she should have been, search was made with the result of finding the body of the dead girl in the water. The deceased was an unusually bright child, aged about fifteen years, and a great favorite with all her schoolmates and intimates. Her parents who are well known in nearly all parts of the county have the deepest sympathy of the whole community in this, their hour of sorrow.

A man by the name of J. F. Mulrain who had been in the employ of the Standard Electric Company for a short time, was found dead last Monday in a barn near Mokelumne Hill. When found he was buried to the neck in the hay. Death was due to pulmonary trouble to which cause had been added an undue indulgence in alcoholic liquor.

Citizen, San Andreas, June 9, 1900.

A lot of aluminum wire, seven-eighths of an inch in diameter is stored near Stockton by the Standard Electric Company for use on its power system between the plant near Mokelumne Hill and Stockton. San Jose, Oakland and San Francisco. The large wires will be strung on the poles immediately after all the masts are put into position.

Walter Pammel, an electrician of the Standard Company at White's Bar, was badly burned by an electric shock on Friday last. He was doing some work about the machinery with a monkey-wrench when in some manner unknown it came in contact with the current, and a flame passed up the wrench and badly burned his arm, face hair and eyebrows. A Deputy Fish Commissioner arrested three Milton fishermen and one from Copperopolis for catching black bass out of season, in the Salt Spring reservoir last Monday, and Justice Stull of Jenny Lind fined them each $40. The season opens July 1st.

Chronicle, Mokelumne Hill, June 9, 1900.

The work of digging the foundation for the new temple to be erected by the Masons and Odd Fellows is progressing rapidly. The debris taken from the site is being deposited in St. Charles street at a point where filling was badly needed. That portion of the street now presents a pretty respectable appearance.

Lieutenant Vogelsang, accompanied by his wife, passed through San Andreas last Tuesday en route to the Big Trees, Natural Bridges and Yosemite. The lieutenant, who is in the service of the United States Navy, was recently promoted for gallant conduct during the late war, from ensign to his present rank. He is a Calaveras boy and his old friends were pleased to meet him.

TUOLUMNE COUNTY.

Independent, Sonora, June 9, 1900.

Harry Dawson, who had been convicted of burglary in the second degree, came before the Court for sentence Friday, the 1st inst., the date for pronouncing judgment, having been changed from Saturday to that day. Dawson was sentenced to four years imprisonment at San Quentin, and he and Cook, who was also sentenced to four years for the same offense, were taken to San Quentin last Saturday by Sheriff Price. Charles Wagner of Cloudmans met with a peculiar accident Sunday, and one that might very easily have proved fatal. He was engaged in mowing, having a horse and a colt hitched up. The colt began kicking and got its foot over the pole. Wagner stepped in between the animals and endeavored to straighten matters out when the blade of the mower struck the horse in the leg causing the team to run away. The mower passed over Wagner, who received several painful, but not serious wounds.

The fire which occurred early Monday morning naturally brought the question of fire protection prominently to the front. When a fire is about to break out, it does not give due notice of its intention and often chokes unseemly hours for its visit. The first ten or twenty minutes after the alarm is sounded are the most important and usually determine whether the conflagration is to be a large or small one. It is evident that a fire is more easily extinguished at the start, therefore the necessity of having the best means obtainable always at hand to fight it successfully at a moment's notice. It is no more than justice that the firemen should be paid for their labor. They do valuable services for the city and they should receive just compensation. Money invested in fire protection is a paying investment from every point of view.

New Era, Carters, June, 8 1900.

John Terzich, a miner at the Rawhide, was struck last Friday morning by a piece of rock that slipped from the wall of the drift in which he was working, and had his left ankle sprained and badly contused. His injuries are severe and will keep him off the pay-roll for a long time. Terzich was brought to Sonora and comfortably quartered at the Columbia, where he is being attended by Dr. Bromley.

Tom Carter, a blacksmith in James Ball's shop, while engaged in shoeing a horse last Friday was kicked on the side of the head by the vicious brute. The force of the blow knocked him clear across the shop and there the other side of his head struck an anvil. He was not seriously injured and continued work as usual, thus testifying that heads are sometimes as hard as horse hoofs or iron.

EL DORADO COUNTY.

Nugget, Placerville, June 8, 1900.

Mrs. Bailey, wife of W. L. Bailey who died at the Ohio House Thursday morning, arrived from Amador county this noon. They have an adopted son, who with his wife arrived from Winchell's at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

When Mrs. Bailey arrived here she thought she was among strangers who had no interest in her and her grief, but she discovered old-time friends in Mrs. James Bailey and Jack Stephens who knew both her and her husband in Minnesota where they lived before coming to California. The Baileys are old pioneer residents of Amador county and when they came there years ago were prominent people and highly educated.

In the years that have passed they have met with financial reverses until today they have nothing.

Amador county gave $25 towards the expenses of the funeral but through the kindness of C. P. Winchell and Jack Stephens, Mr. Bailey had a burial much better than that usually given by the county.

He was interred in the City cemetery. Services were conducted by the Rev. C. C. Pierce.

A FORGOTTEN HEROINE.

Garbed as a Man She Unwittingly Won Many Feminine Hearts.

Worthily worn, the gaudy trappings of war have ever won feminine hearts. In recording the great services to our country of an almost forgotten Revolutionary heroine, a writer has attempted to light some remarkable romances. The heroine, tall, cultured, high-born, joined the Continental army in the uniform of a man and served three years with conspicuous bravery. Her heroism brought her preferment and into contact with the best people of the Colonies, and at all the balls and other social gatherings she was the lion (or lioness). The girls adored the brave soldier, confessed their love, and showered her with presents. "The Girl Who Fought in the Revolution" will be a feature of the July Ladies' Home Journal. It is a record of facts far stranger than fiction.

"Breaking Up" the Sitting Hen.

The broody hen can be cured of her broodiness by putting her in a coop with a slatted bottom and leaving nothing in the pen which she could convert into a nest. If she is of a very persistent disposition she may sit on the slats for a few days, but she will soon give it up, and at the end of a week may be safely returned to the laying pen. In most cases the slatted bottom can be dispensed with, but the use of it will always hasten matters. Changing the hen from the yard to which she has become accustomed and putting her in another among strange companions will generally put a stop to her broodiness, but this plan is not as reliable as the one first suggested.

We do not believe in breaking up the broody hens, but occasionally there is a sufficient reason for so doing, and when such reason exists it should be done by some such means as the above, instead of by ducking in cold water and other cruel practices followed "in the good old times."—Farmers' Voice.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

E. O. Fxcell Will Lead the Singing.

"NONE" WRITES A NENSY LETTER FROM AUKUM

The W. C. T. U. Will Give an Ice-Cream and Strawberry Festival.

The great tour of the Northwest States and British Columbia that is being made by the five representatives of the International Sunday School Association, who are coming to San Jose for the State Sunday School Convention on June 19 to 22, is attracting widespread interest. The meetings they are to attend began at St. Paul, Minn., on May 15. The party will, in the two months they are to travel, hold State conventions and special meetings in eleven of the Northwest States and one province of Canada.

The party is made up of Sunday School men of wide experience and they come officially appointed by the denominations they represent. Mr. E. O. Fxcell, of Chicago, who is to lead the singing at the San Jose convention has a National reputation as a composer and singer and will make the singing at all of the meetings one of the most prominent parts. The other members of the party are Mr. Marlon Lawrence, General Secretary of the International Sunday School Association; Rev. Alexander Henry of Philadelphia, an active member of the Presbyterian Board of Publication and Sunday School Work; Rev. E. S. Lewis of Columbus, Ohio, one of the leading pastors of the Methodist Episcopal denomination; Mr. Robert T. Boushall of Cincinnati, Ohio, teacher of the Union Teachers Meetings of Cincinnati for 20 years. San Jose is now actively preparing to receive the great host of workers who are coming to hear these eminent men. General Secretary Earl S. Bingham of San Jose, and Transportation Manager Henry T. Plant of Saratoga, are traveling the State over, attending county conventions and working up large delegations who will attend the convention. The special rates on the railroads are helping to attract many and all the workers are anxious to get the most up-to-date methods for their work, from their Eastern men.

Provisional Programs will be sent to all the Sunday Schools this week together with a "poster," the call for the convention and R. R. certificate. If any schools fail to receive them they can be secured by addressing the Secretary of the County Sunday School Association in which they live or by addressing the General Secretary, Earl S. Bingham, San Jose.

The Cowboy's Proof.

"Jack" Vance, a cowboy from the ranch of the Butte Creek Cattle Company, was on trial at Alliance, Neb., on a charge of shooting at a brakeman on the Burlington Railroad with intent to kill him. He had received his pay a few days before and was engaged at the time of the shooting in the picturesque pastime of painting the county red.

Vance vehemently denied any intent to perforate the brakeman. He told the Court that, while it was true that he did take out his revolver and shoot after the brakeman had pushed him off the train, he was merely giving a pre-arranged signal. He and a friend had been down the road a few miles and wanted to ride back to the nearest station to the ranch. Realizing that if they were found by any of the train crew they would be put off, they had arranged that if one was put off the train he should notify his partner by firing his revolver once.

The trainman, with visions of what he firmly believed was a narrow escape from death, shook his head, and the Judge looked unbelieving. Vance's cowboy friend corroborated the story, but, seeing that his tale failed to receive credence, the defendant asked the Court to please step outside. The Judge asked what for.

"I'll prove my innocence, Your Honor," Vance said.

The Court was curious and went outside. So did the Sheriff, lawyers and spectators. Vance pulled out his revolver, and, holding a postage stamp between the fingers of his left hand, clipped off each corner in succession. Next he asked a spectator to suspend a hickory nut from a thread. Walking off thirty feet he wheeled and at the first shot cut the thread. Taking six tacks he placed them loosely in a piece of wood. This he placed against a post twenty-five yards away. Borrowing a watch from a bystander, he opened the case for a mirror, shot with his back to the mark, and drove each tack into the wood without a miss.

The brakemen had been looking on in open mouthed wonder. As Vance concluded the brakeman stepped up to the Judge, and, tapping him on the arm, said:

"Yes, Yer Honor, I guess I was mistaken. That man wasn't shooting at me."

From the Chairman and Secretary.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8, 1900.

To the Republicans of California. In assuming the office of Chairman and Secretary, respectively, of the Republican State Central Committee, we do so with the full knowledge of the responsibility resting upon us.

We also realize that without the support and approval of our fellow Republicans we shall fail.

Such ability and energy as we possess will be constantly employed in the interests of the party, and with the sole object of success for our ticket in the political contest at hand.

We ask the co-operation of every Republican and loyal citizen in California to aid in accomplishing this—to the end that our wise and patriotic Executive may be continued at the head of our Government, and allowed to complete the great work undertaken by his party and administration.

We also invite the Republicans generally to give the Committee at all times their views upon matters relating to the conduct of the Campaign, and to freely make suggestions which may be thought to possess ideas which will prove of assistance to the Committee in its work.

The Committee rooms will be kept open during the Campaign from early morning till 10 o'clock p. m., and a welcome is cordially extended to all callers, and we especially ask friends from the country to call and give us the benefit of their observations.

Respectfully,

GEO. STONE, Chairman.

WM. M. CUTTER, Secretary.

There is something wonderful in the growth of summer resorts in this country. A single resort on the Atlantic coast to-day can sumptuously provide for more people than half a century ago could be accommodated in all the summer places in this country. But the older places have had a most interesting past. In former days they were Meccas of the wealth, wisdom and beauty of our land. Many interesting incidents of their inception and history will be published in the July Ladies' Home Journal, under the heading "Fashionable Summer Resorts of the Century."

PORTO RICAN INVESTIGATION

Water Supply and Irrigation Reported.

THE GOVERNMENT LOOKS INTO THE AFFAIR

The Methods of Spaniards and Storage Reservoirs Are Being Discussed.

Although the island of Porto Rico has a less area than the diminutive eastern State of Connecticut, yet its different sections are subject to as great a variation in rainfall as are the extremes of the United States, ranging from practical aridity to very heavy precipitation. As much as 140 inches of annual rainfall is reported in some parts of the island while at some places on the south coast three years have passed without rain. And it is on the south coast that opportunity is offered for irrigation; but the area available is very small. Some of the methods in use, however, are quite interesting.

"The soil on this land," said Herbert M. Wilson, the Engineer of the Geological Survey, who has recently visited Porto Rico, "is in every case the best kind for irrigation. It is fairly deep and underlain by a porous limestone or coral which affords good drainage and probably insures safety from the danger of producing alkali. Much of it is already under cultivation.

The perennial flow of the streams of this section is unusually abundant for a land requiring irrigation. Moreover the flood discharges of these streams occur at frequent intervals during the year, but are especially well distributed throughout the summer."

"Are there any opportunities for the storage of water?" "These frequent floods afford an abundant surplus for storage and the shapes of the smaller parting valleys and of the lower canyons through which the rivers emerge from the mountains may be found opportunities for the construction of storage reservoirs at relatively small cost.

"The Spaniards, who in the past have been the principal land-owners, are thoroughly familiar with the requirements and processes of irrigation as practiced in Spain. Quick to appreciate the advantages of the artificial application of water, they have already constructed numerous ditches of moderate sizes, and much of the more valuable sugar land is cultivated exclusively by the aid of irrigation.

"Such work as I noticed," continued Mr. Wilson, "corresponds in general type to those seen in Mexico, but because of the greater influence of European ideas in this island, the construction is of a more substantial character, and more nearly approaches that prevalent in Spain and Italy. The diversion works are in every instance of the crudest kind, simple wing dams of rock and boulders thrown out to the beds of the streams to direct a portion of the waters into the heads of the ditches. These are necessarily carried away by each flood, requiring to be immediately replaced. On the other hand, the headworks, falls, regulating gates, and other diversiders are constructed in the most substantial manner of massive masonry.

"In strong contrast to this type of construction are the minor distributaries observed in some of the cane fields. These were built by owners who had great grinding and boiling machinery for the treatment of their cane, and were imbued to a certain extent with American methods. They out-Americanized our Western irrigators. Their distributaries consist of a series of temporary trestles and shallow wooden troughs or gutters made of lumber brought from America. These tap the hillside ditches at such points as seem desirable, and are roughly placed so as to carry the water to such portions of the field as immediately require it. After irrigation in such localities the trestles and troughs are removed and utilized in irrigating other portions of the same field. This practice is resorted to in order to reach the numerous little detached rolling hills ten to twenty feet in maximum height, into which the surface of the sugar lands is broken. The other localities, where practicable, these lands are irrigated by direct diversion from the main ditches of laterals dug in the earth and ramifying to every portion of the field to which gravity will conduct the water."

"What effect might Porto Rican production or irrigation development in the island, Mr. Wilson, have upon the American market?"

"Oh, none whatever. The island is small and while methods will be improved, the total production cannot be greatly increased. The increased sugar production of the island would not be a spot even on the Louisiana crop, to say nothing of the immense consumption of this country. Porto Rico's irrigation features are interesting, but they cannot in any way affect the United States.

GUY E. MITCHELL.

IRRIGATION SURVEYS. A reliable and systematic survey of the water resources of the arid region which is subject to reclamation through the preservation of the waters that now run to waste, is highly important. Congress should authorize and appropriate liberally for the carrying forward of such work.

UNDER NATIONAL CONTROL. In all the great irrigation systems of ancient times, history records that a central head made responsible to it each individual irrigator or section, and so the rules and laws under which agriculture was performed were framed in such manner as to insure the greatest good to the greatest number; thus a marvelously perfect agricultural development arose under such systems, and serious conflict of rights was unknown.

EASTERN CO-OPERATION.

The manufacturers of the country, especially the East, now that their attention has been called to the subject, are becoming heartily in favor of the plan of federal aid to irrigation, because of the promise that the development and population of these now arid lands means the establishment of a great home market for their goods. Their friendliness and aid will be found not inconsiderable.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Achilles was invulnerable in every part of the body save his heel. The myth runs that he was rendered invulnerable by being dipped in the river Styx in infancy, the heel by which he was held being the only part not submerged and therefore retaining its mortal weakness.

Everyone has some weak spot in his physical organism, and that weak spot is the invariable attacking point of disease. No man is stronger than that weakest spot in him. We see great robust-looking men go down like nincompoops at a touch of disease, and wonder at it. It is simply the wound in the weak spot, the vulnerable heel of Achilles.

It is the office of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to build up the weak places, to strengthen the weak organs of the body. It does this on Nature's own plan of nourishment. Proper food properly assimilated makes a weak man strong. But the man is only an aggregation of parts, so that the strong man means strength of all parts, heart, lungs, liver, nerves, etc. "Golden Medical Discovery" puts into Nature's hands the material by which the stomach is strengthened, the blood purified, the nerves nourished, the lungs vitalized. It makes the weak strong and the sick well. It contains no alcohol or other intoxicant.

BIRTHPLACE OF THE ORDER.

It is no small honor to be the birthplace of an organization State wide and of National distinction. To Miss Lillie O. Reichling, therefore, Jackson owes a debt of gratitude which it will be hard to pay, and which in fact never will be paid. In the brilliant intellect of the gifted founder of the Order known, honored and beloved as the Native Daughters of the Golden West, there doubtless arose a vivid picture of the very thing that has occurred here this week—the royal reception and bountiful entertainment of the representatives of the various Parls of California. It is to be deeply regretted that the founder of the N. D. G. W. was not here to see the successful session of the Grand Parlor in the birthplace of the Order. She should have been here, and as the most distinguished person present, barring none. Fate decreed otherwise and we bow in humble submission to the decree; but according to the eternal fitness of things Miss Reichling, of Jackson, the founder of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, should have been the observed of all observers and the honored of all honored during the recent session of the Grand Parlor N. D. G. W. in Jackson, its birthplace.

THE Senate by unanimous consent agreed that the Nicaragua Canal bill should be taken up December 10th, and remain the unfinished business until disposed of. That shows how far out of the way are those who have been saying that the Republican leaders in the Senate did not intend to allow that bill to pass. The bill would have been passed before adjournment, if it could have been done without an extended debate which would have dragged the session into midsummer. It was discovered some time ago that there was an agreement among Democratic Senators opposed to the Nicaragua canal, who are more numerous than is generally known, to prolong the session indefinitely, if an attempt was made to bring the bill to a vote. That and other good reasons made the Republicans willing to allow the bill to go over.

THIS has been a red letter week for Jackson, and too much praise cannot be bestowed upon Ursula Parlor No. 1, and especially upon its executive committee, for the admirable manner in which the delegates to the Grand Parlor have been entertained. Without a hitch the excellent plans of the home Parlor have been carried out, and one by one the pleasures that were prepared for the Grand Parlor delegates have been presented in regular order and duly appreciated. The open-air band concert Monday evening; the public reception and banquet on Tuesday night, both of which were as nearly perfect as good management could make them; the visit to the Zeila mine, Wednesday afternoon, and the band concert in the evening, were enjoyed by all. On Thursday evening the moonlight Poppy drill and cake-walk and the recitation by Mrs. F. Peabody, on the mammoth dancing platform, were carried out to perfection and elicited great applause. The band furnished excellent music. To-night the Grand Ball, tendered by Excelsior Parlor No. 31, N. S. G. W., will close a week of unalloyed pleasure. The LEDGER takes this opportunity to bid the brilliant visiting delegates adieu, and wishes them as a body God speed in their grand work, and as individuals all the joy and happiness vouchsafed to the brightest and best of the Golden West by an Allwise and All-seeing heavenly Father.

If the Democratic party had the slightest regard for consistency, it would, after the Democratic members of the House defeated the joint resolution proposing a constitutional amendment giving Congress power to regulate trusts, forever keep mum on the subjects of trusts. Everytime a Democratic demagogue howles against trusts, he should be confronted with the vote on this resolution, the most practical anti-trust legislation that has been before Congress, and asked why the Democrats defeated it.

THE settlement of the Senatorial dispute, in the matter of Clark and Maginnis of Montana, has been left to the voters in Montana, who will this year elect the legislature which will meet in January, 1901, to elect a Senator to fill the seat now claimed by these gentlemen. The practical effect of the postponement of the consideration of the credentials is as above stated. Wise committee.

To County Committee.

San Francisco, June 8, 1900.
Editor Ledger, Jackson, Cal.

Dear Sir:
The Executive Committee of the Republican State Central Committee of California earnestly recommends to all county Committees in the State to arrange for ratification meetings at as many points as possible, in honor of the nominations for President and Vice President, to be made by the Republican National Convention, which convenes at Philadelphia on June 19th, 1900, and would further suggest that such meetings, where convenient, be held on the evening of Saturday, the 23d instant.

The co-operation of all Republican clubs and kindred organizations should be enlisted, and the demonstrations be of such character as will arouse the enthusiasm of the people and show that they are in hearty accord with the policy of the administration of President McKinley, under which every section of this country has progressed and prospered to a degree unparalleled in the history of the Republic.

Oregon has fired the first gun in the campaign, and declared in unmistakable terms that the masses endorse the wise and statesmanlike policy of the President. California should manifest the sentiment of her people with equal clearness—by words now, and by ballots in November next—for her most material interests are vitally involved in the issue of this contest.

These first meetings should strike the keynote of the campaign, and show beyond cavil that there is and will be no wavering in the Republican ranks nor doubt of success.

At the meetings the platform of principles announced by the Republican National Convention should be given special attention—should be read in full and commented upon at length. The State Committee is not in position at present to furnish speakers, and the various organizations will therefore arrange for local speakers to address the meetings. Very Respectfully,
GEO. STONE,
Chairman.

WM. M. CUTLER,
Secretary.

A Canine Milker.

Several weeks ago a tramp pup took up his abode on the premises of County Superintendent George A. Gordon. He was a good natured dog and soon won the friendship of the family and became quite a pet for the children. The dog is of the Shepherd family and put in considerable of his time with the stock on the place. Mr. Gordon observed that one cow in particular appeared very fond of the pup, and the attraction was evidently mutual. He was astonished to see them together so much of the time but the truth did not dawn upon him until the daily quantity of milk from the animal perceptibly diminished. This led to suspicion and suspicion to detection, for on Friday of last week the pup was caught in the act of sucking the cow.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS OF THE GOLDEN WEST GUESTS OF THE MOTHER PARLOR

Grand Parlor Session at Jackson.

Grand Officers Have Been Elected.

URSULA PARLOR NO. 1, HIGHLY COMPLIMENTED

The Session An Impressive One—Jackson Extends A Hearty Welcome.

The preparations that Ursula Parlor No. 1, Native Daughters of the Golden West, had been making for some days were declared complete by midday on Monday and all was in readiness for the fourteenth Grand Parlor session of the Order. The public halls were gaily and tastefully decorated in the colors of the Order, and many prominent buildings and private residences were elaborately festooned. The mining center of the Mother Lode was ready to greet and entertain the representatives of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, sent by their respective Parlor from the four quarters of the State.

As the train rolled in to the lone station, about 3 o'clock p. m. Monday, Judge R. C. Rust, Grand President of the Grand Parlor Native Sons of the Golden West, proceeded to assign the delegates carriages, which had been provided by M. Newman, who had charge of the transportation service, and within a short time, all things considered, the twelve-mile overland trip to Jackson was begun. It was a warm afternoon and the dust was lively, but the good natured delegates stood the drive like heroes and arrived in Jackson wreathed in smiles and covered with dust. Some one suggested that the dust they brought in, if carefully panned out, would pay the running expenses of the convention. Be that as it may, the serene good nature of our visitors under the fatiguing ride, proved beyond cavil that they are as true as steel and as good as gold.

Later in the evening the Jackson Band gave an open-air concert and all Jackson turned out to welcome the delegates, who were soon made to feel quite at home, and entered into the novelty of life in a mining camp with right good will and royal good nature. Between times, however, a little log rolling and lining up for the battle of balloons to come later was indulged in by the masterful ones, who came here to direct the deliberations of the august assembly. Mrs. Ella Caminetti of Ursula Parlor, wife of ex-Congressman A. Caminetti, was freely discussed as a candidate for Grand Vice President, her ability to fill the high office with great honor being conceded by all. Owing to the ambition of Miss Laura J. Frakes of Annapolis Parlor, Sutter Creek, to fill the responsible position of Grand Secretary, a cloud somewhat bigger than a man's hand threatened to overshadow and obscure, if not to totally eclipse, Mrs. Caminetti's chances for election. Hence there were numerous groups of three or more earnestly engaged in canvassing the situation. At a late hour the contending factions retired to sleep over the momentous question.

Tuesday morning was as bright as a dimpled cheeked baby, and the delegates were up betimes and exhibited no signs of the vicissitudes of the day before. It was then that an opportunity afforded the writer heretofore to closely scan the faces of the distinguished delegates, and it did not take a second glance to convince even a casual observer that some of California's brightest women were in Jackson. Indeed, it would be extremely difficult to assemble together in this State, or in any other, a finer body of women.

A morning and afternoon session of the Grand Parlor was held, during which routine convention was disposed of in a business like manner. At 4 o'clock p. m. an adjournment was taken, and preparations were made for the public reception and collation to take place in the evening.

Before the hour set for calling the Grand Parlor of Native Daughters to order Tuesday morning Webb Hall was crowded by the delegates and their friends. The intervening time was taken up by making new and renewing old acquaintances, admiring the decorations and other pleasant pastimes.

Piqueur Hall, which is in a basement of a one-story building now occupied by a dry goods firm, had been cleaned of boxes and other things and the walls and ceiling were tastefully decorated. This room, which is sixty by twenty-five feet, is most interesting to the visitors, and great is the contrast between the little basement room Miss Lillie O. Reichling first met, on September 24, 1886, with her hand of twenty young ladies, and the sumptuous lodge rooms of the many Parlor throughout the State.

At the morning session June 12th, the following officers and committees were appointed:

Assistants to Marshal—Miss Mamie Ryan, Veritas Parlor, No. 75, Merced; Miss Annie Horan, Manzanita, No. 37, Grass Valley. Press—Miss Bella W. Conrad, Dandelion Parlor, No. 66, Sonoma; Eliza D. Keith, No. 3, San Francisco; Mrs. Ella Caminetti, Ursula, No. 1, Jackson; Miss Lillie Jones, Ursula, No. 40, Ione.

Reception—Mrs. Mollie Folger, Ursula, No. 1, Jackson; Miss Laura J. Frakes, Annapolis, No. 2, Sutter Creek; Miss Clara Cassinelli, Conrad, No. 10, Volcano; Miss Irene Bennett, Juanita, No. 77, Adair City; Miss Lillie

Jones, Chispa, No. 40, Ione; Miss Clara Steiner, Forest, No. 36, Arroyo; Miss Lillie Brohaka, Vendome, No. 100, San Jose. Finance—Miss Emma Hilka, Joaquin, No. 5, Stockton; Miss Lillian Versalovich, Fremont, No. 50, San Francisco. Appeals and Grievances—Mrs. Tina L. Kane, Ursula, No. 1, Jackson; Miss Carrie E. White, Santa Cruz, No. 26, Santa Cruz; Mrs. Delphia Schroder, Alameda, No. 18, Alameda; Miss Agnes Lee, San Luiseta, No. 108, San Luis Obispo. K. Wittenmeyer, Ramona, No. 21, Martinez; Miss Maud Wood, Labandera, No. 110, Sacramento. Printing and Supplies—Mrs. Emma Gouber Folger, Ursula, No. 1, Jackson; Mrs. Rose Day, Golden State, No. 50, San Francisco; Mrs. Mollie Folger, Ursula, No. 1, Jackson. Transportation—Mrs. Bella W. Conrad, Dandelion, No. 66, Sonoma; Mrs. Emma Barney, Joaquin, No. 5, Stockton; Miss May MacRae, Orinda, No. 56, San Francisco. The afternoon session did not convene until 3 o'clock, through respect to the memory of the late E. G. Freeman, a pioneer citizen, whose funeral was held that afternoon.

Invitations were held inviting the Grand Parlor to hold its next session at Sacramento and Yosemite.

quite cool, but the streets were thronged until a late hour. All day lecturing has been in full blast by the opposing factions over the selection of First Grand Vice President, and the lobbying and logrolling will grow warmer until the vote of Friday decides the important question.

THURSDAY MORNING.

The forenoon session disposed of the question as to where the next meeting would be held, Sacramento gaining the coveted honor. Many speeches were made in favor of Yosemite, Gilroy and San Luis Obispo. A motion to establish a scholarship at Mills Seminary was carried. The rest of the forenoon was taken up with changing and rectifying the Grand Lodge laws. Refreshments were served by members of Ursula Parlor. Grand officers will be nominated this afternoon.

AFTERNOON.

Resolution of respect in memory of Sister Lillian Carle was adopted by a rising vote of the Parlor. A communication from Grand Marshal Costello, N. S. G. W., asking the N. D. G. W. to give their assistance toward celebrating Admission Day in San Francisco was read. It was the voice of the Grand Parlor that the matter be left to the subordinate Parlor.

A communication from Santa Cruz Parlor, addressed to the Grand Parlor N. D. G. W., was read to the effect that members be not allowed to give up their individual badges at the usual Admission Day celebrations. That the use of guest badges be abolished, as the Order of Native Daughters suffer to an irreparable degree through their indiscriminate use.

A resolution to place in the jewel room of the San Francisco Museum the Golden Key presented to the Grand Parlor by the Miners and Citizens of Tuolumne was carried.

An invitation from Excelsior Parlor to attend the Grand Ball, Friday evening, was accepted with thanks.

After interesting remarks by several delegates relative to the good of the order and what subordinate Parlor can do for their respective committees, adjournment was had until evening.

THURSDAY EVENING.

Parlor called to order at 8 o'clock and after several nominating speeches a vote was taken for the office of Grand Vice President, Mrs. Genevieve Baker being elected by thirteen votes. At 10 o'clock Parlor adjourned, the delegates being escorted to school grounds, where they were entertained by a masterly cake walk by the little folks and an artistic Poppy Drill by 16 members of Ursula Parlor. Between 1500 and 2000 people were present. All were well pleased with the entertainment.

Entertaining. The children of the M. E. Sunday School entertained a large audience last Sunday evening. The programme was of interest throughout. The church was profusely decorated for the occasion. The little ones acquitted themselves well, and received much merited praise from the officers of the school and the pastor of the church. The music by the choir was exceptionally pleasing.

Work on the Lode Mines. A Change at the Spagnoli Mine.

Diamond Drills Useless at the Lightner Mine.

The Spotted Fawn Recently Sold—Amador Men Purchase the Mt Pleasant.

Amador King—Jackson. Drifting still continues for the ledge at the Amador King. After this week three shifts will be put on and the work carried forward with extra vim.

Kirkwood—Jackson. Nearly all the stock of the Kirkwood Mining Co. has been taken and preparations are being made for development work on an extensive scale.

Robert G. M. Co.—Clinton. The Spagnoli mine at Clinton passed into the full control of the Robert G. Mining Company, June 1st, Mr. S. G. Spagnoli, from whom it was bonded, having received payment in full. The work has been temporarily suspended preparatory to arranging for systematic development work. A mill will probably be put up in the near future.

Peerless—Jackson. The usual activity obtains at the Peerless mine, and the outlook is very encouraging. The Company is now advertising for bids for sinking one hundred feet deeper. All interested are very much pleased with the work that has been done and with the prospects.

Lincoln—Sutter Creek. Rock from the Lincoln mine is being crushed at a neighboring mill, and the result, as a matter of course, is anxiously looked for by those interested. That the Lincoln is destined to take its place among dividend payers seems to be considered a matter of course by those in a position to judge.

Central Eureka—Sutter. Supt. Thomas of the Central Eureka mine is hurrying the work forward on the 20-stamp mill with all the dispatch possible and if no ill luck occurs to retard the construction, stamps will be dropping next month.

Oneida—Jackson Gate. Supt. Truscott is a very busy man, but he finds time to look after every detail of the important work being done at the Oneida mine. The 60-stamp mill in process of construction is gradually growing into what will be one of the finest and most modern quartz mills in the State. Other work at the old and new shafts is progressing satisfactorily.

Other Mines. The Kennedy, Argonaut and Zella mines are producing as usual, and work at the South Eureka is in full blast. From Amador City, Plymouth and other points in the county where mining is being done, good reports are received, also from the Gwin of Calaveras county.

Amador Queen No. 1—Jackson. While prospecting north at the 500 level a large body of good ore was recently encountered in the Amador Queen No. 1. The rock is said to run from three to thirty-five a ton. Supt. Dye is to be heartily congratulated.

Calaveras County. Citizen: The shaft in the Angels mine, the property of J. V. Coleman of San Francisco, is to be sunk a couple of hundred feet deeper, and work has already been commenced.

After drilling about 120 feet to tap the water in an old shaft of the Angels mine, the Lightner Company has given up the job, as a formation was encountered through which the diamond drill would not pass.

Chronicle: The water is all out of the Lockwood mine and sinking has been commenced. We are informed that the ledge in the bottom exceeded expectations and that the company (The Grasshopper Gold Mining Co.) will continue to sink 300 feet deeper which will make the shaft about 700 feet deep.

At the Lone Star work of sinking the shaft is progressing rapidly under a contract. It is the intention of the company to sink the shaft to a depth of 500 feet below the bed of the Mokelumne River. Supt. Bug is still looking after the same company's mining interests in Nevada but will return here soon.

Geo. J. Congdon, operator of the Endora mine, has purchased the remaining half interest in that property and is preparing to push operations with renewed vigor. A report of this mine was published in a previous issue of the Chronicle. A winze is now being sunk on the ledge which will open up the lead and enable him to take out a large body of ore. As sinking progresses the ledge increases in width.

The latest reports from the French Hill tunnel are very gratifying. The vein which was at first believed to be only nine feet wide has proved to be only fifteen feet in width, and the rock is of such a character as to no longer leave any doubt regarding the value of the property. The ore prospects well in free gold and carries a large percentage of very high grade sulphurets, some of which will go, according to a conservative estimate, as high as $900 to the ton. The ledge is not pocketed, but on the contrary, it is almost impossible to sort out one portion of rock that has a better appearance than the other, and in short it has that permanency of character which distinguishes the ore of our most successful deep mines in this county and also in Amador and Tuolumne.

The work of trying to tap the old works of the Fox mine with a diamond drill, for the purpose of draining them of their water, has been suspended by the Lightner Mining Company of Angels Camp for the present, on account of hard rock encountered which will not yield to the action of the drill. The boring was prosecuted to a depth of 140 feet and this hole will now be followed for its full length with a drift after which the drill will again be put into operation until the works are struck.

TUOLUMNE COUNTY

Independent: The Spotted Fawn mine situated near the Keltz and owned by Wheaton and Garrett has been sold to Chas. W. Knox, late "super" of the Mt. Lily, who will put a force of men to work at once. The five stamp mill will also be pounding away on ore in a day or two. Mr. Knox has had a force of men for the past two weeks extracting samples of ore from the famous old Riverside mine (the history of which, it will be remembered, contained many bright pages,) with the view, we presume, of bonding the same.

The 10-horse power donkey engine which has been placed on the Dondero mine at Yankee Hill has been tested and gives satisfaction in every particular. G. H. Butzbach our all-around mechanic, put it in position.

New Era: All differences between the owners of the Longfellow mine and Sierra Gorda Union are at an end. The strike resulted in practically a complete victory for the miners.

High grade ore and plenty of it is the rule in the mine on Provost Mountain owned by Messrs. Bohls, Fass and Bingham. The shaft is down 60 feet and shows 6 feet of splendid quartz in the bottom said to be worth $50 a ton.

The Slap Jack, two miles east of Groveland, will resume operations in three weeks. It is being equipped with machinery from the Big Betsy.

Sinking in the Pauper's Dream shaft now nearly 500 feet deep, goes steadily on night and day. There are nine miners employed at the work, three on each shift.

The Mississippi at Big Oak Flat closed down Saturday of last week, throwing twenty-five men out of employment. A considerable portion of these have been given work at the Longfellow.

Mr. Jas. Hamilton of Sonoma, the well-known millwright, has taken charge of the Hazel Dell, in place of W. J. Morse, who has become interested in the oil business and gone to Fresno county.

Four feet of good milling ore has been struck in the Blue Bird, after driving only 10 feet from the point on the vein where work was discontinued by the Bodie Standard Company. The latter threw up the bond last fall. The Blue Bird is one mile west of the Buchanan and is owned by Glosser & Curtis.

EL DORADO COUNTY.

Mountain Democrat: The purchase of the Mt. Pleasant mine owned by the Brown Bros., of Amador county, is good news for the county and for Grizzly Flat. It means a lively future. For reasons not apparent to outsiders, but doubtless known to the purchasers, one of whom was an engineer for its former owners and operators, it was closed down about three months ago on $16 rock. Once before it was abandoned by its owners, who afterwards took from it $400,000 pending suits for its possession and ownership. In the litigation involving its title and revenues, the editor of this paper became familiar with its history and has a well-grounded knowledge of its value. The smoke-stacks have been twice removed from it, but not the "chimneys" one of which was a bonanza.

Not an Exclusive and Dress Affair. An erroneous impression has gone out relative to the Grand Ball to be given this evening by Excelsior Parlor N. S. G. W., in honor of our distinguished visitors. The platform will be free to all who attend, irrespective of fraternal organizations. While the ball is in honor of the Native Daughters and given by the Native Sons, still it is for the general dance enjoying public, and the Grand March will be participated in by all present who desire to do so. The LEDGER is authorized to make this announcement by the Grand President of the Grand Parlor himself, and by the President of Excelsior Parlor, both gentlemen being careful to state that the ball is not to be exclusive in any respect, nor a dress affair, but simply a real, old-fashioned, jolly dance after the good old custom so long in vogue in all well regulated mining camps. Turn out, then, everybody and enjoy the greatest affair of the kind ever given in this county.

Early Morning Wedding. At 4 o'clock a. m. Thursday morning a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served at the Badaracco residence, and partaken of by near neighbors and intimate friends. Two hours later the party repaired to the Catholic church in Jackson where Rev. Father Gleason united in marriage Mr. Marion Barsi and Miss Julia Badaracco. Immediately after the ceremony the newly wedded departed, mid a shower of rice and flowers, for Ione en route to San Francisco and other points on the coast. The best wishes of many friends go with them.

Log Broken. James Le Foy of Jackson, had one of his logs broken at the Sheep Ranch mine on Thursday or Friday of last week. He was taken to the city, we believe, for treatment. His mother works in the Gwin mine boarding house.

Baseball Postponed. Owing to lack of opportunity to practice this week on the part of the Jackson team, the baseball game between Amador City and Jackson for $100 a side, has been postponed to June 24th, one week from next Sunday. The game will be played in Fullen's Grove.

DEATH OF E. G. FREEMAN. A Prominent Pioneer Laid Away.

Miss J. M. G. Vanderpool and E. G. Phillips. Obituaries of the Unfortunates Recently Drowned in the Cosmopolis River.

In 1897 E. G. Freeman's health began to fail. During that year accompanied by Mrs. Freeman, he visited Eastern friends and made an extended tour throughout the Atlantic coast States. Since then he has made repeated visits to San Francisco and other points on the Pacific coast, invariably accompanied by Mrs. Freeman. His health, however, gradually grew worse, and about a month ago the death javelin was hurled and no man knew it any better than Mr. Freeman himself, but true to his nature, that of a strong, self-contained, unassuming individual he made no sign and kept up his spirits to the very last. There was no earthly help, and on Saturday last, June 9th, he breathed his last, aged about 70 years. His funeral which was attended by the prominent citizens of Jackson, was under the auspices of the Ancient Order of United Workmen and the Independent Order of Odd Fellows accompanied by a delegation from the Lodge of Rebekahs. At the late residence of deceased, on Court street, at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday, June 12th, services were held, Rev. F. A. Morrow, pastor of the M. E. Church, officiating. The services were very impressive. A large procession followed the remains to the Protestant cemetery, where solemn burial services were held by the A. O. U. W. and I. O. O. F. Lodges, during which the Rebekah representatives sang an appropriate Ode. At the close of the ceremonies above mentioned, Mr. Hiram Deacon, a pioneer of Sutter Creek, stepped forward, and as a friend of deceased of long standing, delivered a few feeling and most appropriate remarks. It seemed eminently fitting and just that over the grave of a friend so loving and respectful survivor should speak as Hiram Deacon did. It would be well if such a custom prevailed the world over.

E. G. Freeman was born in New York City, but his parents moved to New Haven, Conn., when he was quite young. In July, 1852, he landed in San Francisco and soon after came to Amador county and began mining near Volcano, on the Mokelumne river, near White's Bar, and again in Adair City. In 1854 he gave up the attempt of wrenching gold from Mother Earth and started the harness business in Jackson, meeting with good success. In 1861 he married Miss Georgiana Fritz, of Baltimore, Md., who bore him two sons, E. A. and Clarence W., both residents of Jackson.

The fire of 1862 destroyed his store and contents and his dwelling house, a great loss as he had no insurance. Seeing all of his belongings in ashes, he went to Sacramento intending to engage in the real estate business with his brother-in-law, J. G. McCallum, who was then United States Land Agent. He changed his mind, however, and resumed the harness business in Jackson, a few years later adding a general variety store, which he owned at the time of his death. He was left a widower in 1869, and in 1876 he married Mrs. Martha Louisa Trowbridge, who was then living in Amador City with her sister, Mrs. James Taylor, and who survives him. Two children were the result of his second marriage, Charles H. and Florence Pearl, both living at the family residence. Deceased also leaves two sisters, Mrs. McCallum of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Ellis Burwell of Fresno.

E. G. Freeman was a man of sterling character and indomitable perseverance and will power. He had the courage of his convictions, and was not afraid to express himself on any and all occasions. He was a staunch Republican at all times, and during the trying period of the civil war frequently had his nerve severely tested, but he never wavered. For a long time he was Chairman of the Republican County Central Committee and rendered efficient service to the party. He lived in this community nearly fifty years, raised a fine family, and died respected and honored by all who knew him. His life was an open book. He was square, upright and decisively a man of principle and possessed of the stamina to maintain his position of right no matter who assailed it. Amador county has lost one of its ablest and best citizens in the death of E. G. Freeman.

Jennie May Cleveland Vanderpool, youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. H. Vanderpool, was born in Spring Valley, September 18th, 1876. As her brothers and sisters were all nearly grown, the next youngest being just eleven years older, the "baby" was naturally the pet of the family. The little one was taught at home until thirteen years of age, at that time being on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Smith of Shandonah. She entered the Williams school, graduating five years later from the Plymouth school, and began her duties as a teacher in Spring Valley on attaining her eighteenth birthday. After two years in this capacity Miss Vanderpool entered Atkinson's Business College of Sacramento in 1896, graduating therefrom in the following year with high honors and at once took a position with Hale Bros. & Co. as assistant cashier and stenographer. She served them faithfully and efficiently for a year and a half, at which time she was forced to resign through ill health, the result of overwork. A rest at her home was of such benefit that she was soon able to accept the Spring Valley school for the term just ended. She was greatly beloved by her pupils who will long mourn the loss of their teacher. She early manifested a deeply religious nature; at her own request she was presented for baptism and became a member of the Methodist Episcopal church before she was ten years of age. At fifteen she was received into the Free Methodist church on probation and in all ways was a faithful follower of the Savior. Among her associates her brightness and lovable disposition made her a great favorite, and her early death will be keenly regretted by all who knew her. Of unusual mental attainments, with a bright future before her, hard indeed it is to understand why she should have been taken. But out of the scorched waters, where her young life went out, her pure soul rose unaffrighted to meet its Maker. And though we must mourn our loss, yet we can but know that all is well with her. She leaves besides the hosts of friends who loved her, her parents Mr. and Mrs. Vanderpool, two brothers, J. A. Vanderpool of Sutter Creek and J. A. Vanderpool of Plymouth, two sisters, Mrs. Corinne V. Smith of Shandonah Valley and Mrs. Louise V. Zeigler of Bristol, Indiana. Services to her memory were held last Sunday evening in the Methodist Episcopal church, South, of Sacramento, Rev. C. E. Vaughan pastor, she having been a member of that congregation during her life in that city.

Charles Edwin Phillips was born in Knox county, Missouri, on March 17, 1878, being the youngest child of Rev. and Mrs. S. H. Phillips. The family came to this State in 1884, settling in Shandonah, where Charlie received his early education. In 1895 he removed to Sacramento with his parents, but was still regarded as one of our Shandonah boys. In Sacramento he completed his school course and took up the study of Pharmacy. He had been for some time in the employ of Ing & Allee as a clerk and was attending at the end of this vacation to enter the State College of Pharmacy, where a four months' course would complete his studies. He came to Plymouth on Sunday, June 10th, for a visit to his brothers. He was one of a merry party that left town for a fishing excursion and in a few short hours youth, ambition and life were blotted out in the cruel waters. He was a member of the Christian church, in which his father was a minister. He was very popular both in Plymouth and Sacramento and his loss will be deeply mourned. He leaves his parents, Rev. and Mrs. S. H. Phillips of Sacramento, two brothers, W. B. and Jasper H. Phillips of Plymouth, two sisters, Mrs. Mollie S. Gillum of Missouri and Mrs. Retta E. Brown of Shandonah.

The funerals took place last Thursday afternoon; a large concourse had assembled to witness the last tribute of respect to the dead, the M. E. church where the services were held being more than filled. The services were conducted by Rev. C. H. Darling, assisted by Mr. Haddock of the Free Methodist church of Sacramento and Rev. A. J. Case of Amador City. The pulpit and organ were draped in white and wreathed with green foliage; a multitude of flowers covered the casket and the graves were laid to rest in graves made beautiful with white and green. Peace to their dust and to the aching hearts of the mourners the consolation that cometh of God.
